Heat Guns

Master-Mite® Heat Gun

The Master-Mite® heat gun is a continuous-duty bench-top heating system. This heat gun has a quiet, shaded pole motor and performs bench-top tasks without excess air flow. With the help of a height-adjustable stand you can work with both hands free. Weighing in at only 28 ounces, this streamlined heat gun can also be hand held while performing vinyl repair or drying film without causing excess fatigue. This model is professionally preferred due to quiet operation and low power draw of the brushless, continuous-duty motor.

Features

- Complete system comes standard with 650°F heating element, adjustable heat gun stand and heat shrink attachment
- Ideal heat & air flow (3.8 CFM), performs bench-top heating jobs without excess air flow, won't blow components around work station
- Quiet-running motor eliminates noisy production areas
- 6-ft power cord
- Adjustable heat gun is used to activate adhesive, cure epoxies, dry components, melt solder preforms, remove decals, shrink tubing, and more
