

JT60150 Cut Sheet

JOKARI ferrule strip, 20 AWG, white, follows DIN standard, 8mm ferrule length. For use with QUADRO Plus only (JT62000). Package of 500.

For complete product information, please see this item on our store at the following link:

<https://www.automationdirect.com/pn/JT60150>

Technical Specifications

|                        |                            |
|------------------------|----------------------------|
| Brand                  | JOKARI                     |
| Item                   | Ferrule strip              |
| Conductor Size         | 20 AWG                     |
| Color                  | White                      |
| Follows DIN Standard   | Yes                        |
| Ferrule Length         | 8mm                        |
| For Use With           | QUADRO Plus only (JT62000) |
| Quantity per Pack      | 500                        |
| Additional Information | 50 ferrules per strip      |

Agency Approvals

|                      |                                        |
|----------------------|----------------------------------------|
| UL Listed File #     | None                                   |
| UL Recognized File # | None                                   |
| UL Hazardous File #  | None                                   |
| CE                   | None                                   |
| CSA File #           | None                                   |
| RoHS Status          | No                                     |
| EU REACH             | View EU REACH document |